Owned by the Tribune Media Company, it is sister to National Broadcasting Company (NBC) flagship WLS-TV (channel 7) and Class A Fox affiliate WGN-TV (channel 9). The three stations share studios on West Wacker Drive in the Loop community area (east of the Magnificent Mile); WTTW-TV's transmitter is located on the South Side of the city. History The station first signed on the air on January 22, 1954, as WGBF-TV. It was owned by the Greater Buffalo Broadcasting Corporation, along with WKBF-AM-FM-TV in Buffalo, New York. WGBF was the only NBC station in the nation that had not been on the air since 1953. The station originally signed on as a primary NBC affiliate, but it also carried programming from the American Broadcasting Company (ABC) and DuMont Television Network. It had to reduce its network schedule to only 15 hours a day, with most of the programing being from either NBC or ABC. It had a studios and offices at 6 East Williams Street in downtown Buffalo, with the main transmitter located on 2d92ce491b
