To analyze the outcome of patients who underwent pelvic exenteration for recurrent ovarian cancer. A retrospective review of patients with recurrent ovarian cancer who underwent pelvic exenteration between 1988 and 1999 was performed. Survival estimates were calculated by the Kaplan-Meier method. Twenty-six patients underwent pelvic exenteration for recurrent ovarian cancer. The mean follow-up time was 32.4 months (range, 1-124 months). The 5-year overall survival rate was 18%. For patients with Stage I disease, it was 22%, and it was 0% for patients with Stage III or IV disease. The 5-year disease-free survival rate was 20%, and it was 0% for patients with Stage III or IV disease. Patients with recurrent ovarian cancer who underwent pelvic exenteration for local and regional disease had a significant survival advantage when compared with those who had only local disease. Patients with local and regional disease who had no residual disease after surgery had the best survival after exenteration.Q: Time update issue in my code I have been trying to update the time in a SQLite database every 60 seconds. But for some reason, it keeps updating the time when it shouldn't. This is the code: if(receivedB) { String myURL = ""; String theRequest="GET " + myURL + " HTTP/1.1\r " + "Host: www.google.com\r " + "User-Agent: Chrome\r " + "Connection: keep-alive\r " + "Cache-Control: max-age=0\r " + 2d92ce491b
