when using the DIY eGPU Setup. It is far easier to use with HDMI 2.0 than the previous version of the hardware and software. The DIY eGPU Setup 1.x tool is a very easy to use application that can be downloaded from this link at the bottom of this post. The HD Online Player (free video editing software) can be downloaded from here: Step 1 – Download and unzip the DIY eGPU Setup 1.x tool Step 2 –

Run the HD Online
Player Step 3 – Configure the software
by going to the menu of the software Step 4 – Click the button to start the recording software Step 5 – Click the webcam icon in the

---

program Step 6 – Hit the “Start” button in the bottom left corner of the software Step 7 – A new window will open
showing the webcam recording Step 8 – Click the software icon in the lower right corner of the

---

main window Step 9 – When the red light goes on in the bottom left corner of the main window, a copy of the recording will be saved into a file named after the system you are recording. For instance if

you are recording with a Nintendo Switch – the recorded file will be saved to the folder under the directory “Nintendo Switch”. Step 10 – Now you can do whatever you want with the file and delete it at any time if you are not happy with the recording. Once I have the script from the “Nintendo Switch” folder I can just play the video on the HD Online Player (free video editing software) and trim out the bits I do not want.

---

This also means if I want to record with the Microsoft HoloLens on the Switch, the only thing I need to change in the script is the name of the folder that gets saved to. I find it much easier to use the software rather than having to download the recording software from the Switch and record from there. The software is far better to work with. In case you want to know how to setup the recording software you can find instructions on how to do that here: Step 10 – Play the video Step 11 – Click the software icon in the lower right corner of the main window

---

---
