----- Music by EpidemicSound (www.epidemicsound.com) published:31 May 2017 views:42177 It's been exactly a month since I first published my app on the App Store, and it's already picked up over 20,000 installs! (and that's on the cheap price point of just $1). There are a few different apps on the store, but I figured I'd give you a basic tutorial that walks you through the process of writing an app for your Android device. This particular one is for the iPhone, but the same principles apply to Android development. FAQ's Q: Why did you make this app?A: The reason I made this app was to hopefully help people learn how to make apps correctly, because there are a lot of apps on the market that are a bit buggy on a phone. This has to do with how companies like
