2007, Office 2010, Office 2013 or Office 2016 is required for use. It is a very useful tool. It doesn't have its own interface, but it runs from a script. After running the script it creates the text file that I want in the first document. And this time the other texts are replaced too. Well the provided extract from the user guide seems not to be relevant to the usage of the software. It's not about Office, it's about *multiple documents". So let's use the software on "multiple documents". Then there are some reasons for giving it the best rating: Work on multiple documents at once: Yes. Work with standard text forms: No. Requirements: Windows 7/8/10/Server 2012/2016/2020 (tested on Windows 7) In all these years, the program always ran on multiple documents in a single command line. I'm happy it's still working. A good alternative for single documents is Fast Word Replace. It also runs as a script and requires only one (or several) document to be opened for the operation. It's worth looking at. Note, this is a free program. A: Have you considered the free Office Locator software? This seems to be exactly what you need. Also see this site. This "brings together a WordReplaceLZ is a cross-platform solution for finding and replacing text in any plain text file, such as TXT, CS, PAS and more. It's intuitive to use and offers a lot of customizations. Key Features: ✓ It's a fast and efficient cross-platform solution to search and replace text in plain text files. ✓ Loads and loads of file types can be used, such as TXT, PAS, CSV, CMD, CSV, VB, CMD, DIR, JAR, etc. ✓ Multiple types of lists can be created, offering options to easily perform replacement tasks. ✓ Supports file cleanup by filtering unwanted lines from source files. ✓ An automatic backup feature is also available, for added safety. ✓ No installation is required. ✓ System performance is high, to guarantee great results on any system. ✓ Support is offered by a live chat for any support issues, both on the website or in the App. ✓ It's easy to use, with a clean and intuitive user interface. System Requirements: ✓ Supported OS: Windows, macOS, Linux ✓ Supported Devices: Windows 10, Windows 8, Windows 7, Windows Vista, Windows XP ✓ Supported File Formats: TXT, PAS, CSV, VB, DIR, CMD, TXT, JAR, PAS, TXT description Some domains of activities imply working with standard text forms which need replacement of specific strings from time to time. It can be a pain to perform this operation in multiple documents at a time, unless you decide to rely on applications like WordReplaceLZ, which can be targeted at various text files. Perks of portability On the bright side of things, the application saves you the whole effort of going through a setup process. In return, it becomes a personal tool you can use on other computers, directly from a thumb drive. Don't worry about the health status of the target PC, because the application doesn't need to make any changes to system registry entries in order to function. The first time you run the application a prompt show up, warning you that the list of words is missing. This is only normal, since lists of words can only be created later on. These refer to pairs of words to find and replace, thus giving you the possibility to create presets to ease your work on the
