I create a loop over

this list in my template to present them like this. { % for member in members % }

Trying to figure out why I am seeing the following behavior: Each member of the list is presented for 2 seconds. Once each member is presented, the loop then presents the next member in the list. So every member in the list is displayed twice. A: { % for member in members % } The for loop is executed twice over members. It starts with the first one and then goes to the next one. You probably want to do: { % for member in members % }
