CLOCK! is a handy program which allows you to set a number of alarms. These can be found in the form of messages or audio alerts, and you can set up different parameters for each alarm. You can select the time of day, number of messages sent, and what to do when the alarm goes off. Advantages: Basic The application can be installed on a USB flash drive. This means that you can keep it handy in case you're moving around, and you won't have to bother with accessing a dedicated installation medium to set up one or more alarms. Windows XP It comes with built-in sound effects for audible alarms. CLOCK! Windows XP can also be used without installation, but the targeted computer requires to have .NET Framework and Windows XP SP2 or higher. Pro The application is available for Microsoft Windows XP, Windows 2000, Vista, and Windows 7. CLOCK! can be used to set up a number of alarms. These can be found in the form of either a message or an audio alert. The same alarm can be set up to ring at different times, and this requires you to go through the sound configuration. You can also pick between various types of alerts, such as the sound, message, and vibration. Additionally, you can specify what to do when an alarm goes off. It's also possible to set up each alarm to ring at different times of the day. For example, you can have an alarm go off at noon, while another one is set up to ring at 10 PM. If you're running Windows Vista, you can control what programs can access the sounds files which are used by CLOCK!. What's more, alarms can be set to ring at regular intervals. For example, you can choose to have an alarm beep once per minute, or it can be set up to ring once every hour. Besides the alarms, the program can be configured to ring the specified sound every ten, twenty, or thirty minutes. Additionally, the alarm sound is customizable through the use of a WAV file. While the application comes with built-in sound effects, it doesn't depend on them to work. CLOCK! basic capabilities Customize sound effects The default sound is a beep. You can choose to change it with a WAV file instead. Basic configuration It's possible to create a number of alarms, and
