Statistica 10 free download full Version. Statistica 10 is an advanced and powerful statistical software which provides users with unlimited control over parameters. Dec 4, 2015The commonly employed method of thermomechanical pulping of wood chips is carried out in a batch process with grinding elements, such as beaters, mounted in a headbox. To minimize power consumption and energy costs, the dewatering of the chips is performed by accelerated upward movement of the headbox in a short distance followed by a slowdown of the movement. The heated chips are introduced into the apparatus during the upward movement. The apparatus is transported to the next processing station during the slow phase of the movement. There are known apparatuses, in which a headbox is made to undergo the slow phase of movement and the upward movement only partially. The time required for the up-and-down movement of the headbox is used to perform pulping of the wood chips. The headbox is made to move upwardly at an angle to the horizontal, thus partially reducing the distance of the upward movement. The drawback of this type of apparatus is that the dewatering is incomplete, which results in an increased amount of the chips produced. This is the result of the fact that water and wood chips are added to the batch only at the beginning of the headbox upward movement, which in this case partially occurs due to gravity. It is therefore, an objective of the invention to provide an apparatus, which can be used to pulverize and dewater the wood chips at high capacity. It is an additional objective of the invention to provide an apparatus, wherein the content of water and chips in the batch can be proportionally increased to the wood chips produced. It is an additional objective of the invention to provide an apparatus, wherein the mixing of water and chips can be established by controlling the process parameters, such as the rate of the upward movement of the headbox, the time of the
