It can automatically rename files based on ID3 tags (artist, album, track title, year, genre, etc.), as well as support multiple tag sources, including internet radio, online databases and a text file. It can also extract and crop cover art from audio files, as well as support album cover art from multiple sources, including various image formats, MP3, and MP4. Last but not least, it can also convert audio files to a variety of formats, including AMR, MP3, MP4, WAV, MPC, WMA, OGG, APE, FLAC, AAC, WAV, etc. Portable Mp3tag has been successfully tested on Windows XP/Vista/7/8 and supports both 32-bit and 64-bit Windows systems. The main benefit of this application is that it is a 'recursive' music utility, meaning that it can scan the whole music folder, looking for music files. Mp3 Tag Editor is a free

Advantages: ● Supports multiple tag sources ● FreewareBlockchain and cryptocurrency were the hot trends for 2017 and the huge improvements for the digital economy made in the last 12 months have led to a surge in innovation and investment. Below we list 10 of the most exciting projects coming up in 2018. 1. NEO One of the newer blockchain projects in 2017 was NEO, a blockchain network for real-world applications. The project was founded by Da Hongfei and the aim of the project was to develop a fast and secure blockchain network that was adapted for enterprise usage. At the time of writing, NEO has had a stellar year, rising from number 569 to number 2 on Coinmarketcap. Also, the listing on Binance, the world's biggest cryptocurrency exchange, has been a huge boost, with the value of the coin surging from $1.50 to $15.00 in just a few days. With a huge investment and an exciting roadmap, 2018 is set to be a big year for NEO. The big news in January was the announcement that the NEO platform would work on a new version of the NEO blockchain known as NEO 3.0. This new version will be fully decentralised, meaning that it will feature new and better features for enterprises. 2. EOS The second fastest growing blockchain was EOS, a platform focused on software-as-a-service. With a total market capitalisation of over $15 billion, EOS has had a fast rise in price. The coins main competitive advantage over other blockchain networks is the speed of the network. One transaction takes 1.8 seconds, a quarter of the time taken by bitcoin. This is in part due to the use of the delegated Proof-of-Stake consensus mechanism that is used to secure the network. 3. The Ontology The Ontology project is a relatively new blockchain but in just a year has risen from 13 to 2 on Coinmarketcap. Launched in May 2017, the project set out to solve problems of data privacy, governance and scalability. The Ontology blockchain will offer companies a cheap and fast platform for developing their own applications. Achieving such a feat is difficult as blockchain technology is extremely new. 4.
