ASD Alert ASD Alert How it works: ASD Alert is a free alert system that sends the pager and phone to you when you have had an epileptic seizure. It will beep to get your attention, and it will tell you that you have had a seizure. You can set up alerts for various situations: When you had a seizure with a tonic clonic, myoclonic or absence seizure type, or when the seizure lasted more than 20 minutes When you had a seizure without medication, or when you used seizure-control medications, but you were not seizure-free for more than 20 minutes When you have had a tonic clonic or absence seizure, and you have used medication that you know will not treat your seizure in the next 24 hours When you have had a prolonged absence seizure. An alert is sent on a preset interval and it is sent at a time that you specify. You can choose from 2 settings: - One alert per day - One alert per week After you set up alerts, you can specify when you want to receive them: - Immediately - In the morning - In the evening You can also specify your own alert settings (e.g., no alert on weekends, alert only if you didn't have your seizure-control medication with you). You can also set up your phone to automatically call you at times you specify, or to call you directly if the pager receives an alert. After you receive the alert, you can contact the nursing staff, your doctor, or your hospital and let them know you had a seizure. You can also let the nursing staff know when you will have medication so that they can administer it. Why choose ASD Alert? ASD Alert is a free alert system that is easy to set up and use, and that you can customize to meet your needs. It will help you keep track of seizures and helps you stay seizure-free. ASD Alert
