Deal Or No Deal With License Code

The big thing with Deal or No Deal is that you have to pick a box, then a host picks a number. If you pick a box that has a number that is higher than the number on the host, you get half of the amount of the box minus the amount on the host. If you pick a box that has a number that is lower than the host's, the host must pick a new number or you lose. Deal or no Deal uses Yahoo? Yes. Deal or no Deal Description: This is a simple but effective widget which is based upon the game show Deal or No Deal. All you have to do is pick a box, then you get a ball based upon the amount of money you've picked. Once the game ends, you get the money which you've picked. What's New In?

In Deal or No Deal, you get a minute to talk with a big box and negotiate a deal to win a cash prize. Every time you decide, though, you also choose between two smaller boxes: one with a guaranteed cash amount, the other with nothing. You can win as much or as little as you want if you decide on the smallest box, but you can't take your winnings more than once. For more information on this game see our more...
