FlipFlip was designed to create personal multimedia playlists for your iPhone. Whether you're using it as a slideshow application or simply for listening to your iPhone's songs, it will add an element of personality to the device that was lacking before. By visually displaying the tracks along with their artwork, it makes playback a much more enjoyable experience. Features: ⚡ Works with iPhone 3GS & 4 ⚡ Import/export to iTunes ⚡ Import music from Zune, iPod, and more ⚡ Import PDF & Microsoft PowerPoint files as images ⚡ Support for orientation changes ⚡ Choose from a number of themes ⚡ Interact with the slideshow by swiping and tapping ⚡ View photos from your iPhone ⚡ Two gallery modes: vertical & horizontal ⚡ Gallery navigation on the side of the app ⚡ Touch & hold in gallery for a list ⚡ Can view event location from maps ⚡ Supports offline use ⚡ Smart sync: folders & tags with iTunes (requires iOS4.1+) ⚡ Anywhere access control ⚡ Beautifully designed interface ⚡ Easy-to-use interface ⚡ Ad-free ⚡ Full-screen mode What are the advantages: With FlipFlip, you'll have complete control over your slideshow. With custom themes you can change the background and colors, and you'll have the choice to add all your tracks in the first playlist or sort them by album, artist, or genre. When you start the slideshow, you'll have the option to choose one of the themes, along with an option to load your favorite photos and music right from your iPhone without any hassles. With the "Anywhere access control" feature, you can check the slideshow before you leave the house, knowing it will be ready for use when you arrive. There are very few bugs to report. In my experience, the only glitch I can remember was the music video that I was trying to load from Facebook got a bit out of sync, but that's been fixed in the recent updates. Is it worth your money? FlipFlip starts as a free app. However, if you have an iPhone 3GS or iPhone 4 and happen to be unhappy with the apps that come standard, FlipFlip is well worth the $2.99 price tag. Going for a walk and even riding the occasional bike are activities that most of us, at least here in France, perform regularly. But what about capturing your activities in digital b7e8fdf5c8
