sought advice from tour/producer, music administrator, and co-founder of the Elderhostel program, Robert Lord. He offered support, advice, and a nifty new idea: how about some camping in a shared-living environment? Carnegie Hall awarded CUNY $1.3 Million to leverage the unprecedented opportunity of the 2014 Jazz at Lincoln Center series into greater cultural connectivity. The goal was to create a cross-disciplinary campus-wide experience of jazz within an innovative and affordable student housing program. In March of 2014, Music Director Laurence Skidmore began holding weekly "live" laboratory music sessions for students, faculty, staff, and community members to collaborate on music-theory class projects in a non-classroom environment. On May 12, 2014, Dean of the School of Music and longtime music educator Jodi Allen fulfilled her lifelong dream of leading The New School in Lincoln Center's American Songbook Series. Allen and her talented faculty ignited the passion, creativity, and talent of our students with a series of unforgettable concerts and masterclasses.Q: Disable the menu in unencrypted networks at boot I have two devices connected to the same WiFi network but they have different IP addresses. Both have Ubuntu 12.04 installed. The devices are connected to each other via a LAN cable. When connected via ethernet and using a VPN I don't need to see the WiFi network's menu to chose the network at startup. However when I connect my WiFi device to the WiFi network via the LAN cable (WiFi is OFF) I do see the WiFi menu, which offers me the choice to connect to this WiFi network. I want to avoid this menu at all times except when I am connected via ethernet. Is that possible? A: This is a known bug. It can be found here: And if you want to try to help find a solution, then this is how I would go about it. 648931e174
