According to him, Islam is a religion of peace and a religion of forgiveness. Islamology is a religious ideology based on the teachings of Islam. The author states that Islamology is a result of traditional understandings of Islam, and that the vast majority of Muslims believe that the doctrine of Islamology is identical with Islam. A very small number of scholars, however, argue that Islamology is not identical with Islam. They assert that Islamology is not a core component of Islam, and that it was an early attempt to institutionalize the faith. They argue that Islamology was composed of a mixture of Judaism, Christianity, and Islam, and therefore was not a coherent interpretation of Islam but simply a statement of what the religion was. Islamologists support this view. In response to the accusations that Islamology is not a core part of Islam, and the assertion that it was not a concerted effort to institutionalize Islam, Islamologists argue that Islamology is a misinterpretation of Islam. They argue that Islamology is a logical expression of the religious beliefs and history of the Muslims, and is in keeping with what Muslims actually believe.

Zouheir Rajoub, advisor to the Palestinian Prime Minister and a member of the Fatah Party, said that the death of Prophet Mohammad was a "blatant conspiracy by the Jews." In a Fatah conference in Ramallah, Rajoub said: "The murder of the prophet Mohammad is the most brilliant operation of the Jews to push the Muslims into despair and put them in a state of continuous battle. ... This is the first time the Jews have managed to incite Muslims to murder one another, in this case, murdering the prophet, through their program of [Israel] and religion." You May Also Like. According to Zouheir Rajoub, the plan to murder Prophet Mohammad was not just the work of a few low-level radicals. Rajoub said that the plan to murder Prophet Mohammad was orchestrated by the entire Muslim world: "[In order to] extract a lesson from [the assassination of the Prophet Mohammad] and to fight the Jews, every Muslim must be ready to die for the sake of Islam. The youth must be prepared to be martyrs and to fight [Israel] to the bitter end." At least two million people have been killed since the beginning of the Palestinian-Israeli conflict, according to Azzam Tamimi, who was appointed as an Israeli peace negotiator in the West Bank
