The applicant is a junior faculty member in Pediatrics at the University of Colorado Health Sciences Center (UCHSC) with a track record of successful research to identify psychoactive substances and their metabolites and establish associations with substance abuse and dependence in emergency department (ED) patients. The applicant will complete the proposed training activities outlined in this proposal and receive additional mentoring and didactic instruction during the conduct of the two clinical trial projects detailed below. Specifically, the applicant will acquire: (1) the skills required to carry out a multi-site randomized controlled clinical trial (RCT) to explore the validity and utility of the Parent Report of Substance Abuse (PRSA) as a screen for DSM-5 substance abuse in ED patients; (2) the skills required to assess the validity of the modified Yale Brown Obsessive-Compulsive Scale (mYBOCS) as a screen for lifetime substance abuse in adults enrolled in a clinical trial; and (3) the knowledge required to apply relevant models of statistical analysis and longitudinal data management. The three studies proposed in this application will: (1) determine the validity and utility of the PRSA as a screen for DSM-5 substance abuse in adults presenting to an ED; (2) determine whether the PRSA is a useful screen for lifetime substance abuse; and (3) evaluate the utility of the mYBOCS as an initial screen in patients initiating psychiatric services. These studies will be conducted in several urban EDs in Colorado. As a result of this training and future research, the applicant
