No need to download any additional screensaver resources. Powerful and features rich player component that runs off the system processor without the need for additional CPU cycles. The player will not only play the demo clips, but will also provide an interface to select the location to start the clip. Able to watch the clip without producing any additional windows (its windowless) Every clip can be customized by the user (view order, speed, quality, etc) Screenshot Display: If the selection is set to record to File, the screenshot display is shown when the clip starts, while if the selection is set to LiveShow, the display is brought to the primary window. What's New in DemoForge 3.6.0.0 Beta: Performance Optimization: We made some big performance improvements, thanks to the latest version of the popular ResoVLSound technology. We increased the maximum number of clips, we decreased the CPU cycles used to play each clip, and we modified the way we created the.dmp file that contains each clip, in order to improve the performance of large file formats. New Plug-in System: The plug-in system we used was abandoned and was not efficient anymore. In order to get things working as smoothly as before, we decided to re-design it in a new way. In this latest version, we also integrated the new desktop properties to show the progress of each clip. Audio Settings: When a player component is in use, the audio settings properties can now be changed in a really intuitive way. Bugfixes: A lot of bugfixes were made to improve the overall performance and stability of the product.
