
Esser Tools 8000 66 NEW!

The SuprEsse II is an easy to use and affordable vocal de-esser. It can de-ess less than 30 seconds of sound at a time, allowing you to easily set your own de-esse level in just a few seconds. With its auto-ranging functionality, you can set the de-esse level in any area of the spectrum at which you want your vocals to sound clean. It is a great tool for removing wind chimes from voices, artifacts from wind instruments, and unwanted hiss from tape processing. ESSER II: The state is using 45% ($48 million) of the ESSER II set aside to ensure that all LEAs, regardless of whether or not they received Title I-A funds in FY 2021, will receive an allocation based on a minimum per pupil amount based on poverty data. This will guarantee $150,000 in relief funding for every public school district and non-profit charter school in Arizona, with $175,000 guaranteed for rural school districts and charter schools, and $200,000 guaranteed for the most remote school districts and charter schools. ESSER II: The Pennsylvania Department of Education intends to use its set-aside for the purpose of support for school districts to ensure the continuing and uninterrupted delivery of instruction to students and of support for education employees affected by the COVID-19 outbreak. ESSER III: The state intends to use its ESSER III set-aside to provide a range of services that benefit students, families, educators, and the community. The state will allocate $100 million from this pool to programs and projects. A list of current eligible programs and projects is available on the DEED website. Schools, locally-reciprocating funds, and state funds will not be eligible for this allocation. Any unallocated funds will be retained within the Department for future spending.

so, we've got districts, schools, and the state all working on this. the center on budget and policy priorities reported that many states have yet to provide any funding to schools for the academic year. now, with the passage of the cares act, many states have provided $50 million per week in additional funding, but these funds will be distributed to districts and schools through july 31, 2020. the esser program is providing grants of up to $2 million per district to support up to two school-level projects, such as reducing class sizes. you can learn more about the state of esser funding in this eecac snapshot. the esser program, therefore, is providing $2 million per district to states for the purpose of enhancing school system improvement efforts. to qualify, districts must have submitted an application to the eecac by march 2, 2020. the district's new strategy seeks to improve student achievement, mitigate the impact of covid-19 on student learning, and protect educators and students from the harmful effects of long-term absenteeism and high levels of stress associated with covid-19. dallas isd wants districts to consider the following key principles for what is happening in their states: districts should match the amount of funding available with the scope of the learning challenges they face. districts should use the funds available to maximize student learning and protect educators. districts should link their use of esser funds to the core principles of the law, which recognizes that the best use of the funds is through teacher collaboration and effective partnerships. districts should not use the funds for activities that are not explicitly authorized by the law. districts should fund the full application period to avoid costly early termination. 5ec8ef588b
